'Exploring the CEIP' Panel Questions

Panel #1 Renewable Energy (metered wind and metered solar)

Panel Moderator: Jamie Barber, EE & RE Manager - GA PSC

Panelists: Jeff Pratt, President - Green Power; Anthony Coker, Vice President, Market Development - Hannah Solar; Simon Mahan, Director – Southern Wind Energy Association; Ryan Sanders, Partner - Beltline Energy

Panel #1 Questions

1. Do you think Georgia should participate in the CEIP? If so, why? If not, why not?
2. Based on this timeline (show timeline on third page),
 - a. When would the state need to approve applications?
 - b. From application approval, how long will it take to construct and start up a utility scale solar project? A community-scale solar project? How long to contract for a wind power purchase agreement and start up generation delivery?
3. Provide an example project that fits well within the CEIP. What types of projects make sense?
4. Will CEIP ERCs/allowances be a key driver for future projects? Will certain projects only go forward if accepted into the CEIP?

Panel #2 Low-Income Energy Efficiency

Panel Moderator: David Gipson, Energy Resources Division Director - GEFA

Panelists: Michelle Wagner - Georgia Power; Liz Coyle, Executive Director - Georgia Watch; Garry Harris, President - Center for Sustainable Communities; Kevin Kelly, Policy Advisor – Southface; Jonathan Ray, Executive Director – North Georgia Community Action, Inc.

Panel #2 Questions

1. Do you think Georgia should participate in the CEIP? If so, why? If not, why not?
2. Based on this timeline (show timeline on third page),
 - a. When would the state need to approve applications?
 - b. From application approval, how long will it take to generate savings from a new low-income EE project?
3. What kind of EM&V do you think is appropriate and what are some of the challenges of EM&V in this sector?
4. Outside of the traditional low-income weatherization program, what are some other low-income EE measures and programs that can be encouraged and incentivized through the CEIP?
