Description and Location of Proposed Activity:

The proposed streambank stabilization project will consist of grading the streambank to a more stable slope (3H:1V) and integrated bio-engineering practices (including vegetated rock gabions with Black Willow live stake cuttings) along an unnamed tributary to Bell Creek. The proposed streambank stabilization practices will prevent further erosion of the streambank along an existing residential property located near the intersection of Brookwood Drive and Hickory Bend in Thomaston. This project will result in approximately 90 linear feet (1,800 square feet) of buffer disturbances along an unnamed perennial stream, a tributary to Bell Creek in the Upper Flint Watershed.

The application for a variance must include an approved Erosion and Sediment Control Plan with control measures based on sound conservation and engineering practices which meet or exceed the standards in the "Manual for Erosion and Sediment Control in Georgia" and which will minimize erosion and deposition of sediments on adjacent lands or into State waters.
