

Compliance Status Report

Names and Addresses of all Responsible Parties for the Site 391-3-19-.06(3)(b)6.

Description:

This is a list of all responsible parties defined as “any person who has contributed or who is contributing to a release, as defined at O.C.G.A. 12-8-92(9).” These parties may include:

- Current property owners of a facility affected by a release.
- Past property owners who owned the property affected by a release after a release occurred (or in the case of an unknown release date, a party who owned the property after the release may have occurred).
- Current or past operator of a facility from which a release has occurred.
- Any party who delivered waste to a facility for disposal, treatment, or recycling of the waste. (Exception for recycling of scrap paper, plastic, glass, textiles, rubber other than tires, scrap metal, or spent lead-acid, nickel-acid, nickel-cadmium, and other batteries.)
- Any party who transported waste to the facility from which a release has occurred.

When completing a list of responsible parties, please specify those property owners who have received a limitation of liability pursuant to the Hazardous Site Reuse and Redevelopment Act.

The information must include contact information including the company name, contact name, mailing address, and telephone number.

List of Figures to Include:

No figures are required; however, if the site includes several properties with several owners, please provide a copy of a map showing all property boundaries, tax parcel identification numbers, and label each property with the name of the current owner.

Common Mistakes:

- Not including a complete list of responsible parties
